

News about the CreativeCH Project

View this email in your browser

CREATIVE COOPERATION IN CULTURAL HERITAGE

Newsletter N°9 - December 2013

CreativeCH is a FP7 project funded by the European Commission. The views and opinions expressed in this publication are the sole responsibility of the author and do not necessarily reflect the views of the European Commission.

Happy New Year to all the PLN members

Heritage professionals are placed in a new context, where the role of heritage in innovation, economic and social development is greater than ever before. There are many opportunities linked to Cultural and Creative Industries, as heritage-based digital media products become commonplace.

Do you want to know more about this issue?

Have a look at the results of the Workshop 'NEW SKILLS AND PROFESSIONALIZATION FOR THE DIGITAL ARENA': http://www.creative-heritage.eu/workshop_newskills.html

The double-edged effect of heritages

How the different types of heritage (craftsmanship knowledge, creative knowledge, tastes, institutional heritage and common cultural heritage) contribute to creative process?

Read the article 'Heritage as a basis for creativity in creative industries: the case of taste industries': goo.gl/OuNPSR

Creative destinations

Paris and its creative tourism sets itself apart as a pillar of cultural, interactive and sustainable tourism.

Take a look on how setting up activities from all walks of life:

<http://www.creativeparis.info/en/>

Urban Cultural Heritage & Creative Practice

Heritage is a creative and relational process where places and communities are constantly remade through creative performance.

Bringing together university and local creative partners the 'Urban Cultural Heritage & Creative Practice' project is establishing shared vocabularies, tool kits and best practices for incorporating collaborative arts practice in cultural heritage curation.

Read more: <http://urbanheritages.wordpress.com/>

Creative Commons License

Except where stated otherwise, the website content is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 3.0 Unported License.